

Changing the global views to avoid social calamities

Prologue

Social calamities have deep rooted into humanity for survival and the same is threatening the global population as Diaspora, a group of people from one country living across the world, no longer can exist, if the differences continue. It becomes unavoidable for all to integrate, for the living and is pushing the social structure to refine to give way to globalization considering human values as the calamities are well addressed by the international public forum to the immediate effect. It is high time to think of the various roots of social calamities uprooting the humanity and ethics to reform, reorient and refine towards human culture and ethics to compliment all and compromise nothing, to come up on one's own in their own pace without any erosive emotions that increase the longevity. We must accept that we had reached ultimatum towards materialism and we had started realizing

Social calamities are the accumulated psychological feelings of individuals for not being liberated but restricted to social bindings as discipline.

Individuality is inherent and finds a place to come out and unfortunately for the greed and irresponsibility of the leaders, the same are emerging out as calamities the lack of human values, as the imbalance has reached the family of two even, to feel for private space and individual right that the social structure must be reformed to individual rights and preference. Who remains stuck to materialistic attitude are not for their ignorance but for their ego to give up, as even with the man who survives on daily wages and who do not have the habit and necessity of saving earns more than what he needs and spends the same lavishly. The zero on the right of currency may increase with different levels of earning with different work pattern but the attitude remain the same basically and since every one have good in him to an extent, that we can easily make them orient toward straight and easy earning to make all black into white that the social calamities can not spread further to the core. The strategy lies in making the guideline values of assets specific to a particular property and in dissolving all taxes and levies including income tax that the governance find self sustaining measures to earn for its survival which make several departments merge, dissolve that finally what is absolutely necessary remain in the governance making every thing online, and the same becomes self nourished. The non judicial stamp paper for not giving way to legal action automatically, it resembles the plain paper signed by the involved and that holds value in the court that none need to register the purchase but to inform the possession of the same to the government to verify and to keep track for furthering the same by any other in future. When this is blocked registration of properties is simply the information to the government to keep records updated to the current details and to the original, we get all black money into white money and the possession of property is on the capacity of the individual and all should be capable, for there is only way to earn straight and the same be informed to government for keeping it audited. This paves way for perfect balance of finance till the reserve bank that there is no way for illegal earning but the dilutions that were existing so far for the deviation in the revenue procedure gets fixed when the governance is made online to check illicit activities too. I hope the governance pay due attention to it that we make India shining towards making global civic integrated and leap towards prosperity complimenting all countries.

Introduction

The society pertains to the interconnectivity and integration of many individuals, groups and communities is prone to differences for the belief , habit and custom of all involved which has been widely referred as tradition and culture and which is being projected upon a particular social group as pride, which is actually the basis for social calamities and hence the natural calamities. The welfare of the society is from the individual to public and the transformation of carrying oneself in the society as its part, lifestyle and professional outlook lies in how one view at the society and the social status of him amidst others. This is where the difference occurs and the prosperity becomes calamity for the misunderstanding of one, his status and contribution in the society to be external which is not really so, but the inner quality and outlook one have.

The perspiration of what one has about his stance in the society as a part do not lie on ego, self consciousness, position, material possession and assets, but how he fixes himself integrated to the society as a promotional component, whose place is irreplaceable. One can simply achieve this by being his own that he satisfies himself, his position in the societal set up and promote the progress of the society constructively. Several organization who works for the welfare of public both government and non government have expressed their concern on the building up of unacceptable situations in the social being as an individual and as a part of the society and hence the same must be discussed of its limitations to promote the progressive growth of the global civic.

Globalization has dissolved all the differences, and barriers that we can not categorize now a custom, habit, life style, tradition belong to one region. It has gone much advanced in social and economic development of all countries equalizing the fiscal and social resources equitably. Now, it is in its way to find human development for global needs where the basic human values becomes necessitated and which had gone into papers alone for the turbulence and rapid development in socio economic development which seeded many negative forces and emotions as the corporate personality and life style. We now are realizing the personality development for the placement in corporate and multinational sectors have ruined the originality and creativity and suppressed the individual to form groups to work for the common goal as assigned and not to his comfort and work ethics. The goal of the concern becomes the goal of the team and hence the individual. It is needless to say for fighting to find a place in the race, most of them give up ethics and have to forgo justice, professional responsibility that there are a lot of social calamities both inwards and outwards influencing the individual's morale and personal well being.

The social calamities as we see now in common are for what has been projected as vision, mission and strategic plans of a profession, the organization to which the employee belong as they have to spend almost all their time to the profession, unequally, stressed all time, squeezed to the ultimatum that they drained to the core almost which results in mental instability and abnormal adventures to keep their intellectual thirst quenched for reality. We have the other side of it in the government sector, where there is no need to work, show progress and the promotion, hike and all perks comes to them automatically without them showing any progress constructively that they enter into destructive activities to avoid transfer even which involves huge bribe and corruption and that intrudes into getting the desired designation by the deserving. All the mission, vision, strategic plans should be in line with the objectives of the individual, his potentials that the same is instilled into him and he can be as he is to perform the best. To be frank, and to the practicality, such situation very rarely exists and they all pretend right from the beginning to get the recruitment to achieving the objectives of the organization. When they have the attitude inclined to what they do, their performance is original and which has no substitute. In the race to achieve economic and social sustainability, we had gone much away from the roots of humanity that for the human development in the globalization process we need to implement many changes.

The United Nations Organization with many of its decentralized groups is into maintaining a balance and the core of the UNESCO for its regional importance to preserve the culture, tradition and the life style of a particular region including the traditional arts, and preserving the tribal activities is much against the globalization and universal oneness and need to be refined for the globalization has far reached beyond question that it becomes a must for every civic to get prepared for global livelihood and the activities which are much against the same will definitely feel a shock as the objectives of UNESCO and the trend of global population are in the extremely opposite direction that they will never meet and the one to alter its way is UNESCO. When this happens, we will almost reach the millennium development goals as they all remain at the goals by words to reach the global population and the effective means and ways are yet to be formulated.

It must be noted at this stage that the action plans well framed should reach the common civic, which instills the millennium goals that we reach the set goals much earlier than we had planned. When the action plans includes the target group in to the objectives, where as the propagation of the goals to the public make them mere spectators, enjoyers without their inclusion by involvement. It must be borne in mind that the unexpected social status without the contribution is disastrous and do not stabilize or sustain the livelihood of the beneficiaries. The same will be negative to promote undue wealth to the mediators as part of the governance that makes them powerful and they enter into prohibited activities boldly for the undue wealth and derived influence. If a country is to develop, to meet the global standards it needs no financial contribution but the will to promote them on their own by due assistance in earning the skills and offering them opportunities. The countries that met disastrous calamities during world war II became powerful countries now , not for the financial assistance they received, but for their determination to find their due place.

As discussed earlier we shall look into the actions to be done to meet the millennium development goals, which give many versatile responsibilities to all its units to promote the same and to integrate the developed, developing and underdeveloped countries. The success stories are yet to sign up in their history as the same finds the reason as financial insufficiency and try to make it up with more of funding, the benefits did not reach the target in majority, but only a small group that has been continuously under focus for the purpose of statistics. The bottom line of such activity has not reached the beneficiaries practically. Hence the action must be not in funding but in finding the deficit in terms of opportunities to make them self sustained ever , which will promote social integrity and there is no way for calamity as there is no free schemes and funding then.

The equity of resources must be felt in this way, the nature gives the opportunities equal to all, where you find more physical resources, and you have people with physical intelligence to get the best out of it. Where there are no resources, the people will have emotional intelligence to derive the best of knowledge for survival that they become the human resources for the global prosperity. The focus must be in this direction to give them the ways to earn and learn where ever they are and we form truly egalitarian society. It must be instilled right from birth that every one is blessed and special that none is deprived of potential. It all lies in finding the ways as the advancement in communication and information technologies makes learning the skills much simpler and specific to each one. The entire system of stakeholders is to assure an individual, his preferred environment where he can give out his best to his utmost comfort and that benefits the system in turn. It must be borne in mind that flexibility is existing in the work pattern though we have stringent schedule by physical presence, negatively. That is the unique trait of humanity without which one cannot work even at the present rate and for this the same must be considered explicitly taking the volume of work done with no criteria on physical presence. This enhances the performance and the output will be much improved with less efforts and mindful application of facilities available. This is possible with the computers, connectivity through internet, which makes the world come closer, which makes the use of time, effectively.

There must be a balance of personal and professional life that the people have time to think on their own, analyze, refine and come up with their best. It is to be accepted that in this turbulent world where we run after something all the time thinking the same as development, there is no time for one to think about anything and every one wishes to keep themselves always busy and that is where the core of social calamity lies. A professional need not be always engaged only to his profession, getting away from his personal life.

Most of his official schedule is on personal meetings and following the routine that he fails to apply his professionalism mindfully and all his experience and expertise goes as waste in minding the routine. In this era of thirst to gain celebrity status and search for flattery, every one wants to keep themselves always engaged professionally that they fail to live and when they turn back in the situation when they get compulsory retirement by natural force by themselves, they could realize the vacuum in their own life which then can not be compensated. There is a fair share of every one in the group, community, and society which if not done for the dominance, adamancy and authority of the leader or other members, the same will be certainly reflected on the output and social calamity to destroy the core purpose of the activity.

This is not felt explicitly, as a failure or a success of an activity can be measured in more than one form and when the members involved are not mindful to the core of the activity and engages them only to discharge duty; they will not see the real reason involved for the same.

This lead to disturbance of the conducive performance , consequent negative emotions and the truth involved will come out when the social disturbance builds up to a calamity. Majority can not be repaired as the related natural, human, intellectual calamities to this social calamity would have taken an exponential trend by then, much deeper leading to disasters. Proactive measures of the authenticated personnel is required much here which in turn open up another issue of social calamity as reservation based on caste and the efficacy of the authorities who comes up in the ladder by influence.

The incapability and the misbehavior arise in discharging the duty when the official concerned does not meet the requirements for a specific job. The reservation being to promote a particular community, which is backward, categorised by birth, we give them education and that is how they can be treated equal. When it comes to job, the basic criteria lies in discharging the duty to the expectation of the best to serve the majority that keeps the system live. The appointments based on reservation only dilutes the system in its performance, as they always deserve special treatment than being treated equal for potential in every stage of their elevation blocking the chance of a deserving by efficiency towards the heading position too. When they do not possess the required skill but assume responsibility, the total efficacy of the system goes down and they cannot contribute their fair share.

When the statistics with the governance goes to the level of annual income of the leader of the family, economic status of the family, the best way to bring up the equality and equity is by prioritizing the economically backward, irrespective of caste. Then we don't get the issues as we have with the caste based reservation now since there is no compromise in the needed potentials to carry out a job. It should be noted that there are forward class people who remain economically weak and needs the assistance of governance. The skill and potential is not by birth but by the exposure with involvement. By giving reservation, they do not involve voluntarily but set to enjoy the benefits, as they get everything best irrespective of their performance throughout their service.

The peer pressure do offers a fair share in social calamity. As one will always be stressed to maintain an image, a status which may be much against his originality, they always put themselves under pressure to squeeze out to the best and lose their whole of life chasing the fata morgana, mirage of illusion the illusionary image that they never meet. They loose their self-esteem, the love and affection to their family members, care to the fellow members of the society in search of finding a repute, which is false and fell down once the assumed position is gone. There are more psychological issues involved with the personnel in governance and their family members after his retirement, as they do not bear the shock of reality that what all they enjoyed so far are for their powers and not for their own quality and value. Many of them come back with extension, enter into second phase with some other concern and gain nothing, as they don't find their true position as a human in search of repute that does not lie outside but within them.

The peer pressure existing among the civic is the one, which is getting deep into one's life style and the one which need to be eradicated is the view on the society as to how they influence one's life. Authority, domination, power, provocative action, negative emotions like fear, anger, irritation, pull downs make the common civic to respond weak and these are the sources of social calamities if unattended. The individual must be brought up with the social concern considering everyone including him forms a part of the society and for the development of the global society he should nourish cooperation, self competence, voluntary contribution, accepting others as they are but willing to give up ego, negative emotions, comparison and competition. In this globalised world, the opportunities are ample in various different combinations with various different networking that every individual can lead a standard life style if the basic traits of him to suit the needs of the standard view rises up. There is no way for poverty unless otherwise it is taken for granted to sustain livelihood by him.

The opportunities to earn in a more straightway, effortlessly to lead a peaceful, balanced satisfied life are in plenty and we really lack work force to execute all of these opportunities, which is very much true in the existing scenario. What is needed here is the determined living of an individual in his preferred environment on his own with his own personal skills that he will have no influence and pressure from outside but can give his best to compliment others. This is they way we eradicate external pressure and activities on undue personal benefits.

If one gets convinced, what he can do and what are his skills that can be enhanced, if one determines whether basic trait is to live on his own, by following the routine, take risks to come up, he could well define his future and there lies the responsibility of Academia. The individual from childhood must be reared to analyse himself, find the merits and demerits, adopt good practices to gain qualities and in every stage he must be able to set goals for himself. For this the education system must give way for self learning, motivation, continuous assessment, support, complete knowledge on education through experiential learning and self confidence to meet the real life situation. Then the team spirit and group activity do not become a custom or tradition formed by the leaders where the members do not contribute their best, but by the one who takes up the job to involve who could contribute voluntarily that the output progresses towards excellence. When the individual builds himself for his own life only with complimenting others in the society, there is no way for external pressure and everyone comes up with what they deserve. Then power becomes responsibility and not authority. We shall see the response and orientation of different stakeholders to social calamities in the subsequent discussion. It should be remembered that they must all be integrated, made inclusive to shift the calamities to contributions by making self satisfaction with conviction.

Children

We should feel the children are the pillars of tomorrow's world and give them space to give out their best, live their life mindfully. Their life is their own, and we are the tools to introduce them to the world to make them understand the world in their own way. We do not have the right to design their life, but have the responsibility to help them identify their personal skills and guide them where they can excel with their complete potentials utilized. They should feel ever they are secured with the other stakeholders of the society, connected with them always to learn the world better and never feel they are folded authoritatively. The stakeholders are instructive to define what they ought to do in their life to carry on themselves. The society should always show care and concern that they are for the children when they seek their guidance in whatever mode, positively but never give them the fear that whatever they do on their own will go wrong.

The world is thrown open to all equally in this advanced era of technology that the inquisitiveness, the characteristic trait of them give plenty of opportunities to learn things better than us. We should be always ready to guide them, but never give suggestions voluntarily without them need our guidance for that particular activity. They should feel they could move ahead with their own potentials enhanced with the feel that they are completely secured and every member of the society is to guide them. For this they must be exposed to the world right from the beginning to face real life situations and tackle different people in their own way with enough input as what is good, what is ethical ,what is legal as they are all inborn characteristics of every child which remain under nourished in this turbulent world of existence. Actually, the poverty is not in materialistic attitude to attain the basic livelihood as food, cloth and shelter, but the rich qualities as ethics, loyal and humanity.

Vulnerable uneducated

The under informed society which need to depend on the other members of the society by some way or the other become vulnerable for their ignorance, negligence is taken for authority and dominance that they become vulnerable to all antisocial activities by their fellow members. Self-sustenance and well informed of any thing and everything under the world to check, to follow, to understand and to interpret in their own way to the depth they can go. This provide them ways to understand the world to their might with others knowledge, experience and expertise which remains connected to information on the net that their vulnerability to social calamities being a part of it knowingly and unknowingly becomes eliminated. This ample information provide them confidence to face every one that it gives the opportunity to enhance themselves to the best of their potential.

When the governance is lagging much behind for authority and influence, with rules becoming obsolete, the truly educated find no ways to act for their knowledge and perception and migration of the potential reserves become unavoidable. It must be understood that any one can earn an excellent profession in a multinational company, work from native environment for his potential, and earn the best as they could from a foreign country. What prevents them from being in the native country apart from being with their near and dear, to loose the care and affection of their family and friends is the hatred and helplessness towards the governance. Since they get the advanced technology compensate all these through virtual media, they fly abroad, never wish to come back and the only reason that could be identified for the drain of potential reserves to foreign countries is not the money but the unethical and illegal brutality that is reinforced in this biased and outdated governance explicitly.

Unborn children

This is another side of the social calamity, which remain untouched both from the medical and from psychological aspects as abortion has that much influence in one's well being which is not felt to its seriousness and is being taken as the regular activity in many of the hospitals even now. The advancement in pharmaceutical research has brought a lot of self-medication in this aspect too, which will be detrimental in the end. When we find there are long term implications in a medicine, giving that to the public, permitting the same available in the market is like advertising on the cigarette packets as smoking is injurious to health, yet giving it way to move among the public. When the activity is identified as injurious the same must be banned to the core as non availability of the same makes them think to avoid the habit. The sex education taught superficially in the schools are the reason for this social calamities as the opened pages of sex education have not been closed with moral, ethics, noble ways to live.

Sex as a need to reach the satisfied rhythm of mind and life towards filling soul and not related only to physical activity simply. The same has to be with satisfied mind, with a perfect match where there is no compromise, in any form. In spite of seeing the red ribbon clubs in schools which itself is painful, we could find news in the media too, schoolchildren abort and take preventive medicine. It is not in giving them sex education we can make them alert, but by introducing personal hygiene and good habits, making them connected always to engage them in mindful activities prevent all these. We do not operate to remove this getting priority for the exposure towards the wrong side but making the tumor to spread by giving more attention to that side. The information field has open up a lot many vistas to explore the nature in many different ways, which is ever evolving and making them focused into, it will bring progress as we can never sustain. Engaging the child is to be understood as making them self learn by what ever they do with connectedness to the elders as guided learning and it is to be understood that they do self learning with what they have exposed even if you do not accept and that is what the one of the reasons of social calamities in the existing scenario. The abortion, whatever may be the cause is to be counseled in the proactive aspects. It should be instilled that when the child comes to ninth standard they must be taught to be dedicated to their parents.

When they comes to pre college they must be instilled with their social responsibility and commitment that they will be focused on their due part in building the society with ethics and when they are to leave college they must be informed of their professional ethics that they serve mindfully. Do not preach the children, throw open the relevant information and statistics of the social calamities existing instead of money with which they think they can do anything, their inbuilt conscience prevent them from entering into the illegal activities anyway. Giving birth to a child is a responsibility than a status, to complete a family as we add to the world a member who is reared in the care and affection of us until he stands on his own legs and do his might to all around him and that forms the conduct of the family successfully. It must be remembered that nothing comes out of force but by mindful sharing constructively to convince the involved and get convinced. None have the right to force things as it fails even with self. I use the words unborn children here for this activity which with its due impact to curtail the unethical activities to the core.

Youth

Youth is the status where there is energy, excitement, enthusiasm and they will take risk to extreme. They must be channelised for the benefit of their family and society constructively. The society is no more a community, no more a country but the global village. It has shrunk to have the chance to interact, share and take out the best through internet that it offers ample good opportunities to learn life long where there is no humiliation, status, ego and all are one irrespective of the position, designation, age, experience, etc, etc. that what integrates them all is sharing the expertise. When this becomes the media of communication in education, and weeding away the materialistic websites with certification through the server by government, there will only be positive and constructive transfer progressive to the global development. When the youth need to be egalitarian, equal, there should not be reservation, there should not be free schemes, and there should not be categorization. Every single individual must be involved with due contribution and get the assistance and guidance from the government. When everything comes online and transparent and the assessment becomes qualitative, the education system will make them involved voluntarily with no way to find reason for their performance, and they will perceive the entire content of the curriculum which make them man instilled with multiple intelligence to design their own world and only then they will work mindfully. Youth being the significant part of the society for their energy , must be motivated to realize self, to offer their best as they are as individuals, the attitude to form groups again is dangerous for the precedence evidenced as party. No principle is static, persistent, but changes with time, situation, and set goals of one that the individual youth must come up with his own line of thoughts shaping him, not by blindly following what is said by any one else.

Civic

Though it refers to civic of all age groups, the focus is on those parts that are in active service and contribute to growth directly by professional contribution. Only these people have the ways and means to go out of way to earn by which disturb the balance and cause social calamities. The greed, the opportunities to go out of way, the support and cooperation for the superiors, subordinates and fellow mates to justify the illegal activity as the way to survive becomes the core for the social calamities, which has deep rooted almost all and uprooted many families for the unethical attitude. The reason may be the greed of the involved people on their own, by peer pressure, by the greed of the family members that he bends for corruption and bribery. The same then become the routine and we should feel all the youngsters who enter into the profession believe this out of way procedures are the routine as per rule and give the same in writing too which is shaking the system at all levels. Civic must be well informed and do not take things to their ego, but sit to set things right in their own way, if not convinced, to take the issue to the governing people straight away with the motive to sort it out by arbitration and there should lie the objective of cooperation for the good cause. It must be borne in mind that truth never fails and the governance at all levels must assure the same.

When the issue is being approached mindfully there will be solution legally enforced by the monitoring people that the civic never try to take short cuts and illegal routes to gain easy success. Success is easy in this modern era if the individual tries to take his own path much different yet within the spectrum of humanity and ethics. The common civic is the key element for the social calamities knowingly and unknowingly, directly and indirectly which must be corrected by the professional system in which they engage themselves as they refine continuously through lifetime and no one is born corruptive. If there is no conducive environment and promotional features for the same, the same will perish. This is the action expected than the anti corruption forces and corruption control acts. The same need to be prevented than to control.

Senior citizens

They have their due role to play in the capsulated world where the children of today's age do not have privilege of being guided ethically with the experience and exposure of others. They have been to the old age homes for various reasons and for the ultimate care they receive and the diet being common to all of them for their age, the same can be justified for the isolation, negligence they face being single at home with their own children.

The social drive to be engaged always make the children move much away from them. But the vacuum could be filled by providing online services that they interact with children where they could tell them stories, the morals and all the niche and values of the old system to convince them. This could extend to all children including those in orphanage even from their own home, which form connectivity positively. Their experience hold a value and gets transferred to the children of tomorrow taking the best leaving out the conventional and orthodox beliefs which when raised by the children change the minds of the elders too to fix to the present world. This social networking will benefit the society constructively against the calamities.

Academia

Academia has become the education business organizations of the influential people that they think they could bend rules for their wish and have been exercising the same at the cost of the value of education. It leads to dilution and the very basic of examination as the ultimate assessment system, which bears almost all of the eligibility criteria to get to the next level, becomes a tool to sell the degrees. It is common from the press news that there is answer script chasing, there is malpractice to get 100% results, there is malpractice to get top scorer in their schools. The parents for their kids to be in the limelight without due hard work and efforts to learn things for their life throughout spend money illegally to get them more marks get them degree that the entire education system is diluted as is much away from the purpose to fulfill the goal as man making process. It must be noted that the press news on the above said events are not specific to the individual who got caught for the illegal, but one among those who commit the same caught in the activity. They can not do the same if there is no precedence and for which the case is suppressed treating the same as the single issue concerned only to the one who got caught. The management quota and reservation do not based on skill and which fail to support the selection on rank basis and which is not the indicator of merit and intelligence.

Many of the great performers in the examinations do not shine in the real life situations, as they don't take up risks for having trained in the restrictive environment and information, mended to follow only the instruction given as such. They do not have the opportunities to excel experiential learning that they lack confidence in real life situations. The ranking and examination to the core prepares only masses that could help corporate to flourish but not the governance to develop the globe to the expected standards. We need individuals with special skills that they give out innovative plans to take the world ahead. The existing scenario is that we don't want to execute the existing norms to sustain the condition that we degrade the entire scenario drastically to meet disasters socially, economically and naturally questioning the existence of humanity. The personality development and the professional training have taken the personnel much away from their originality, as they do not refine them by heart but by external building of image. It many times much more than their originality that when the critical situation comes , they do not have ultimatum their potential reserve that they collapse completely to the core of psychological disorders.

The psychological disorders seen common among the corporate and software industries is due to this. For the extremely high pay they squeeze the individuals which should come to the concern of human rights. There must be common rules of human resources utilization for all that the same assures quality life balancing personal and professional life globally.

The curriculum must have updated content to meet the global demand with due importance to industrial and experiential training to build them self confidence that they take up any job as they are. The courses as personality development and the science of creativity, professional ethics and consumerism should focus on the individual strength and skills to compliment the society expecting nothing from others to the core of self-sustenance. When there is expectation and symbiosis, the scale will not always stand balanced that there will be bias at any point of time leading to calamities. Every thought in whatever mode we analyse finally converge to justify individual specific approach reinforcing the individual human rights to be mindfully employed.

Technocrats

The professional ethics must be instilled into every activity that they should aim to get profit for the benefits their findings and products offer to the global society in the end and the focus is not on entertainment, addiction, but on the enjoyment and happiness to carry on life peacefully. All the amusement parks, with the games using warnings, as the patients with heart diseases and blood pressure do not take part should have a check legally, because they support the owners in case of accidents but not the user in case of losses. There are chances of first incidents and such games are to be replaced with fun games, humor activities that on the other side promote health. The infrastructure and town planning is totally against the ventilation and lighting, long term expansion in mind that there will be huge loss of public money which need to be avoided. The system is to think of shifts in three terms that expansion is with man power and not with space and units. The products should exist in the market throughout their lifetime and the longevity of the products assured for the conservation of resources. The advancement of technology should be for the benefit of public and the obsolete be banned for the advancements and should not be sustained for existence as the paper mills, mobile phones, telephones and postal department as they all can be replaced by online activities. The focus is not on material profits, the competition not on making a brand famous by popularity but on the quality and utility respectively. There are still areas of research on utilizing the natural forces for energy production against fossil fuels that remain untouched but many illegal, hazardous projects receive funding from the governance globally misleading the public towards disastrous ends.

Global Diaspora

Diaspora is a dispersion of a people, language, or culture that was formerly concentrated in one place. This is the result of globalization in the past few decades which had open up new vistas of global expectations that need to be answered for global integrity and prosperity because it is high time to come out of shells of region, caste, language and culture to work for humanity. The globalization in the initial stages has concentrated on the socio economic development at the cost of humanity and ethics. In the verge of gaining social status, sophisticated life pattern the potential reserves of all the underdeveloped and developing countries migrated to developed countries , offered their expertise squeezing themselves and made their governance automated even on the time they face Y2K problems. They had satisfied their family, their status thirst but personally lost a lot of human values right from selling their self-esteem to stick to a career to compromise their personal life through making their counterpart to play the dual role of parenting, making them too under pressure. What all they had achieved is giving way to unprecedented spurt in the land values, building costs, education charges and life support system that the natives could not bear the same and enter into negative emotions, corruption, and bribery. For the abnormal cash flows they finally the imbalance in the financial conduct that the black activities all become white explicit out of ignorance. If the governance has to take action for the illegal activity, it has to execute action through revenue department for each purchase of land and buildings as none of the document bears the true value, including their own. It is becoming serious in locking the public fund as the same were not printed but by these people , blocked from the regular cash flow and the target groups are the middle and low income group who do not know to spend what they earned mindfully as they have also enhanced their earnings proportionately. They spend all their earnings in undue activities of addiction and illegal conduct that lead to social calamities.

Poverty is not a curse now; it is accepted for the bearer. The opportunities have become multifold that we need work force now as unskilled with only the drive to learn and work. Starting from the economics, social status, possession of sophisticated life support system, one need only the will to procure and money is not a constraint now that can be earned easily if the mind is set for possessing the comfort.

The financing systems with banks for their existence, killed ethics to the core that for the low EMI, any one can purchase anything of their choice and this is leading to irrevocable social calamity though not explicit for the false status. Desire to possess everything has gone from materials to celebrities that the human value is going down and down and this is highly unfortunate for the global culture being understood as complete freedom without commitment which is not so, but which is liberation with individual choice of environment. When the earlier lead to conflicts as they interfere with others personal space, the second one gives solitude to design one's own personal space where he is the king of himself. When the first leads to disaster, the second one gives complete satisfaction and enhanced performance. The social stance for the globalization on its first move to establish social, economic equivalence have brought in this calamity which will be balanced only with due concentration on instilling human values in the global context.

Gender parity

The gender bias still exists and is a global issue irrespective of developed, developing or underdeveloped countries, where only the degree and level of harassment differ, which exists everywhere even among the well educated. The women for the social system have to take up more loads to the core of 100% at home and in the work place. The government of India still talks about 33% reservation in the professional status. The culture and traditions have not changed yet and even the top officials as women have the pride of saying that they cook and take care of family chores on their own. Whereas the equality lies in accepting them to be equal both in family and professional life. There is nothing wrong for a man to take care of family chores equally, there is nothing wrong if he takes house hold responsibility equally that make women shine more as they are. They are not weak any way, they are physically strong, mentally strong and emotionally strong too and that will get exposed when they meet critical situation to handle by themselves. Women do not come to rescue of any men in dispute, for the bad name and comments she gets in the activity, even to women, as she will be named adamant and talkative, that hinders her furthering as the whole universe lives on references . But for the men who has the right to come for rescue in the name of heroic deed and manliness holds it and when they get a support, they use it for the ease of solving the issue, which is common to both men and women in general.

Only the extraordinary will say no to assistance without their consent. When it is psychologically accepted that the originality comes in the critical situations, by originality the women are brave, courage, balanced by always that they take 100% responsibility voluntarily when the situation demands, like men. They make themselves as weak and timid, dependent if there is a source for them to enjoy the privilege and they do which is what we see in regular life. It is to be noted that women respond much faster than men, women gets back to routine than men and women completes the task quicker than men. What makes them second in the humankind is the culture and tradition of civilization framed by the society. By nature for creation, women are the point of origin for all activities and their immediate rescue from shocks is needed to carry on life further. Men are the tools to carry on further the purpose and which balances the livelihood that both share equal parts and for their due contribution, physically, morally and psychologically.

The wrong concept of treating both equal to share all loads everyway made the scenario worst and biased to burden an individual as it is to be understood, every one is unique and special and deserve their due contribution irrespective of gender and that is equality. Every activity has the hard and soft component. So is the creature of anything in the universe, this can also be identified as hard and soft parts in every human. When the civilization interpreted the hard and soft components as male and female, the distinction came and the activities had been categorised for themselves based on the categorization that becomes specific to men and women respectively. When the hard and soft are felt as the skills of individual, we could conclude every individual is equal and special and it is the will to take up a responsibility that makes the difference. If this is understood and if the individual is made to come up on his own taking up the best ethically, for his might and convinced, there will not be difference and there exists only humankind. The dress code, the habits, and public posture of an individual is their own right and responsibility that none have the right to interfere. If this is given, the responsibility lies with the individual that checks all illegal activities. The social calamities due to the mindless rules as there will be only one life partner and the issues with initials and date of birth lead to social calamities in the children as the hindrance in building their self-confidence.

These procedures make them feel depressed during those times and which gets mounted up leading to social calamities as they fail to understand the situations which make their parents to take the decision and go against them for the procedure and humiliation, prick involved in it. No one is slave to other; no one is dependent on other when they reach self-sustenance with self confidence and exposure that the opportunities will be visible only to those who open their minds. The eradication of gender difference lies in transferring the priority as a human, not as a male or female. Rules are to be followed as rules and if the general scenario checks the same it should be properly amended and no individual as a governing person have the right to take decision on his own, even with the help of a policy decision as the policy decision should support the execution of rules simplifying the procedures and should never go away from the rules. Globalisation has made new paradigms in the social stance of individual too to move much away from the spheres of influence to lead a independent life if the self esteem is checked and that focuses several rules of the governance to be reformed. When the same is confined to the constitutional base alone, there is no need for new amendments and rules as the preamble alone is inclusive of every specific issue of an individual to a country.

Media

The journalism is too corrupted these days for the monitory benefits and survival. To boost the circulation, they give false and fake news damaging the repute and career of celebrities and popular persons that we have ethical journalism now forgetting that the bottom line of journalism is ethics. As the same gives first information about any fact to the mass that they have to be genuine in giving true facts to the fine details of the same collected in the interest of the public without bias and they do not publish unwarranted matters simply for publicity. It is to be noted in the existing scenario there are agencies, who mediate the media and the concern to publish the news like advertisement, which boasts simply exaggerating the facts. With the advent of news channels and privatization of the same, there are more versions for the same thought and idea that people get always engaged giving up their jobs of significance, their family welfare attracted by the fantasy of the shows.

There must be check on the programmes to the core of censor as we have for the theatre films since many of the programmes violate the norms legally, project legal violations as achievements. They give new more ideas for crime and which reaches more prominently for the closeness the same will create with the viewers, which is more damaging than the theatre projection. Many of the programmes are dangerous, provocative, misleading and in the name of live shows, they enter into the privacy of family matters that continue to split the family with the josh due to the addiction the media generates for the publicity. With the provocative queries of the moderator the participants gets hypnotized to give out more matters that are personal and what is not needed for the conduct of the programme ethically and the same leads to social calamities between the communities, families, and conflicts within the family.

Governing people

The governing people are to bear in mind that they represent the need of the public to the administration and they take part in the governance authenticated to do public service and not public authority. They should not drag an issue unwarrantedly, they should not get into bias for influence and they should take risk to move on finding the truth with evidence and solve the issue amicably for the benefit of the involved that the same thing should not get repeated else where in the form of government order or court order. The politicians should know their limits and should not enter into the governance and policies to influence shaking the ethics. There must be stringent norms to check their interference. It should be remembered that the governance is a team of all personnel who receives salary from the government and deserve the right to reform, register their feed back derived from their experience.

Administration

They form the key component of execution of scheme to reach the target group and they should form the scheme in such a way that the beneficiaries voluntarily avail the schemes by themselves and do not permit the ethical dilemmas to intrude through mediators. They must be bold to take initiatives and should know the rules and objectives of the department on their own and do not depend on the clerical cadre for knowing the routine which will dilute the system to the core. They must be exposed well to real time factors and must have their knowledge applied to social events that they should project themselves as good administrators with their strategic plan made known to all explicitly. The automation imparts transparency and keep away the influences that every department should transfer their procedure automated and every official should have hands on access to information that they receive and respond to complaints on their own, forward them to the concerned that as a head, they take charge of the consequences of any action and solution to any problem. The telephonic and personal conversation for the official purpose should be banned and must be substituted with writing, to the best by online communication that the efficacy and transparency improves.

Politicians

The basic idea of the political system is to impart secular democratic governance that every common civic receives equal opportunities and all the grievances be passed on to the governance , discussed in the parliament to arrive at a reprisal system and solution to benefit the society at large in the long term measures. They need to focus on their ward which paved them way to governance and assure peaceful living and the meetings be made online as they could register the entire conduct and there is no way for heated arguments and provocative statements which will divert the course of the meeting. There is no way for the filthy and indecent words used which will lead the system and which has been felt long time as the lag of political system that educated do not get into it voluntarily and this gives way for the opponent boycott the session on their own. When the canvassing and voting be made online, proposing their own plans and their own achievements, there will be healthy, conduct of all the parties involved and the system will be totally transparent. They need not spend money illegally, and need not bend for the influential, block the financial reserves in black activities that the extremity leads to global recession.

Congress which means the parliament, the house of representatives to make laws and the senate, being the first political forum of Independent India, the same had been framed to assist the senate, the president or the governor in the central and state government as per constitution of India which included the council of ministers later and which is given as advisory in the constitution. Later with the differences among them, there evolved a number of political parties that moved away from their professional ethics that the same is standing as the main source of social calamity against democratic governance for public and can be dissolved to give equality to all members of the house, that there need not be political parties, but there can be localized move specific to the area and represent the grievances of the same in the council, to assist the departments and governor or president to remain as the executive head of the state and nation as per constitution practically in which case they are to be elected with individual voting form the common civic which can be made online to make the process easy and effective, economical too.

The United Nations has to take initiatives to integrate all nations and all of them form a part of all treatise and conventions. The same holds the right to indicate the flaws as the three-nodded governance with the chief information officer, Supreme Court and the president of India hold the right to correct each other and many times, it is unfortunate to realize that they form team and maintain silent though their immediate attention is demanded for the situation. Corruption should be prevented with updated norms and transparency and can never be controlled. The military forces of all countries be dissolved for the intervention of the UN and they can be used for fighting the natural calamities and rescue action, by making them merged with police department of the nation. If there is no military force readily available with advanced training, no country will plan to move for war, since the education and civilization make conviction of the involved an easy job.

Services

All professional services are to gain the expertise to use resources mindfully and to the fullest of the life time. Professions that benefit a huge mass to save their lives, to get a healthy peaceful environment belongs to service sector and the pioneer in this is the medicine service. The personnel involved must be dedicated, selfless and should follow the Hippocratic Oath which reflects the general ethics of humanity too. Next comes the law and order service, and it is very unfortunate that they had been spoiled to the core to corruption explicitly and give up the ethics to search for truth to yield to influence and external pressure for personal benefits that the law and order dies to the core. The affected not only receives undue treatment for the blind support of the police, but also encourages the committer to move fiercely that none will have the courage to approach police that the mediation and loot enters into the system.

The law and order, judicial system must be reinforced with advanced technologies that the enquiry and collection of evidences be online and the same must be verified for the relevant procedures and words of the involved will not be taken as such. They should set to gather evidences to convince the involved and should never drag the issue for the benefit of their self, for they make the ignorant as victim against ethics and as we have the slogan truth never fails, it will manifests itself and get all the involved illegally receive the due as the pain of the victim ignorant of the incidence is more powerful and has its influence in most unexpected directions which the consciousness never indicate. It is more related to spirituality and conscience, the power of inner light and which has got more intense wave length than light that will speak of what the emails could not for the same penetrates the mind. Emails serve as a tool to awaken the inner conscience to receive the light of truth. It can only be felt on self-realization.

Industrialists

The industrialists have the master role in setting things right as they have to pay a huge amount as tax and to get license for their business, they enter into bribing the governance. They give false financial statements and to make their transaction cleared earlier to avoid the stagnation causing losses to them, they bribe. They make their products manufactured without the careful planning to conserve reserves and to bring down the production costs. They should include the environmental costs too to incorporate zero emission technologies and the basic concern to conserve the environment, resources by using environment friendly technique make their procedure meet the clean requirements, and they do not have to spend much on the ISO standards and EM certification. When they use natural resources and biomaterials they can make the products cost less and make their life period fully utilized. Not only the consumer products but the machinery manufactured too has rapid advancements that there must be proper gap between the two consecutive models with reasonable updates to support the cost hike. The advertisement should not mislead the buyer but should tell them the fact to have long lasting relationships.

Business people

The business people not only should target on profit but consider their service to the public to give quality products for the money they spent .Especially, those who work for the food, shelter clothing related products should think their activities are all benefiting millions of people on their health and hygiene and should be prepared with ethics. They should think of the options to go for products reach the customer by quality and not by the fantasy.

The price tag, wrapper and cover for each piece are going to be a waste and that cost added to the unit price is again a waste. Instead the advertisements and publicity should focus on projecting the niche qualities and longevity for the amount paid and that should replace all these redundant costs that all will avail quality products. The hotels, restaurants must be clean to the core which is the responsibility of not only the owner but the user too. Preweighed packets of food grains came into existence only for the malpractices of weights and materials involved, which is now taking place at the packing stage itself, in spite of the monitoring authority as the users were not involved in the activity. They don't bring out the effects but stop buying the same anymore that the fake activities do not reach the monitoring authority at all. More over, the visits of these people as a team will reach the involved much earlier that they could go hiding their mistakes and bribing the officials for their ethical dilemma to give up vigilance.

Consumer

Consumers form the basis of all the illegal and unethical activities the sound will come only both hands tap each other. They should have green consumerism of what should be bought and what is beneficial in the end. When they do shopping, they should not be dragged by the fantasy and image, they should think of the ill effects the same has and it must be borne in mind that not all quality products are expensive and not all expensive products are of best quality. Experience, query and the analysis of statistics about the product make one to take proper decision and the other side who is benefited with profit for selling a product should give enough time for the user to think and the product should not be forced upon them, its utility must be felt. For regular maintenance, for the annual maintenance contract, they do involve in replacing the usable products that has not worn out with meager use and size of the family that is not taken into account. Many of the services and replacements are cheating the customer as the same is reshaped and brought back to the market easily. The air conditioner, washing machines, water purifier could all be utilized for the maximum with regular maintenance and which can be done by the user for which getting the annual maintenance contract by force is unethical. All of them must be checked by the alertness of the user to say no rigidly in spite of all their sweet words because the money we invest is our sweat. The mobile phones are detrimental to health, they must have the minimum usage only when absolutely needed, and the irrelevant messages as advertisements, forwarded from friends must be avoided as they consume a fair amount of our time, divert and make us addicted to the same.

Corporate

The corporate sector is taking the lead since the initial stages of globalization when it focused only on the socio economic aspects and which had resulted in the global recession for the personnel have been squeezed completely. The team spirit had been transferred to them as obliging the words as such, the cooperation as to do what have been instructed and success is giving the output in the stipulated time. This though benefited the concern, put a heavy stress on the individuals to give up the originality, innovation, personal strength and focus on single intelligence on the outcome suppressing the others that they don't mind the job but do them superficially.

What all we have achieved as success in the corporate sector now are the idea of the heads which resulted similar pattern of job and we face monotony in the output and that again make all users to get fixed to the standard pattern , expect the same everywhere and we fail to live but survive for the design to fit. With the tools of corporate activities , each option can be unique and when we sell ideas we feel it is to bring out maximum profit and is to be patented which is wrong. Ideas are infinite and those who wish to copy can go ahead with it, once the base, the core of the concept for which we work is within us, we will be giving rise to many different patents. The clashes, the difference, the conflicts, the legal issues arising out of the same are the bottom line of rivalry existing nowadays with the leading corporate pulling down each other.

We should think if we could reach such progressive economic growth amidst this, if they all become legends in their own regime without interfering with the independence of others, how far we could have gone in reaching the global standards. When they got more jobs due to automation, they have not been taken to a wide group of personnel, but given to the employees of their own to make them earn all time and that is the reason for psychological disorder and mental instability of the corporate in the recent years. The relaxation and the week ends , vacation after a task go as a team again where they fail to realize what their status is as every one is unique and solitude is essential for self realization especially in this modern era where every one boast, every one puts a mask when they come into socializing. Criticisms and corrections value a lot in the existing scenario as they are rare and must be taken for the concept and not against the person, which is building conflicts with people around. Convincing and getting convinced is the way to peaceful living and it is with the integration of all activities concerned.

Legal services

The legal advisors are engaged in almost all public, private and government department to focus them on legal implications involved in the innovative measures they take. All their activities being checked for the procedure from time to time, which is now taken an illegal, form to advice the concern to use the flaws in the rules and laws for fake activities. They mislead the complainant in case of issues, use the judicial system for their advantage and use the procedures available with the judicial system for the drag and undue fabrication of evidences, producing false evidences and so on. To make their survival with the concern that they earn more, experience in the negative direction and move further on materialistically killing the ethics of their profession. The judicial system must check their stance with stringent procedure and if any legal advisors indulge in giving wrong information explicitly on behalf of the concern, his license to practice the profession must be cancelled and only this measure will bring them back to track.

Counsel

The psychotherapist practice counseling in psychological disorders of an individual and it is getting to the dangerous side that they make all those who approach them as patients giving them some medicine to pacify and be permanent with that medication that their sustenance is attained. This in turn affects the social well being of the patient, their family and the consequence continue to be the chain of reactions that their offspring experience the problems for no serious illness is involved with the concerned. The continuous preaching and the special treatment make them patients ever and this provokes the situation, as every human is susceptible to care and affection from any way.

As the water goes to the low level, the human too find ways where they remain peaceful, and this attitude must be constructively used in this turbulent world where the hastiness make every one disturbed psychologically by one way or the other. The NGOs and social organizations on the other hand for the survival of their organization take the stance to sit to give judgment on their own and which is leading to severe social calamities now a days which has not reached the governance. The issues which would have gone into permanent conducive solution to the concerned, for the interruption of the Social counselors take serious form and continue as the victims are taken to social forums and their case history is discussed open to all, making them abnormal from the mass and they continue to be the showcase object of these people.

In this era of advanced knowledge no such mediation is needed as every one is educated now, at least to the level of complete literacy. The wide exposure make them gain enough knowledge that they no longer need an external agency but each department of the governance should have the information section who should be able to tell them what they have to do the same being in writing the copy of which should be made available to the victims. The counseling has to be taken a step ahead to make available all information and rules pertaining to them explicitly that they can make their grievances projected as per rule to convince the governance. In case there is discrepancy due to lack of knowledge on the victim, he will be corrected which take the system further on constructively without making the involved clash vigorously to the core of permanent loss.

Financial auditing

Every concern, every organization and every government sector do undergo financial auditing and in spite of that we experience fake activities, corruption and bribery. They give false statements, hide truths where such activities are involved for their survival that is finally brought into accounting reflected on the share of public. The clash existing in accounting due to such irregularities gets reflected till the apex body of currency, which instead of moving in to the finer details to correct the system and bring it back to track, finds more ways of superficial procedures to identify the reason for the difference as legal, revenue based, where as the core lies on the ethical balance sheet produced by the auditing professionals. If they do their task without any bias, just as per the procedure every one will have no way to fake and malpractice that the system functions to benefit the majority. There can be losses, which are unavoidable , but must be accounted to carry on the corrective measures, and the involved should not hide facts to save name and fame as mistakes too are unavoidable.

Private sector

The private concern which do not function with the funding of the governance, think they can do anything as per their wish which is not so. They are very much under the surveillance of government, which is to check the private sector squeezing their human resources. The schedule must be between 10.00 and 3.00 PM for all. The leave facilities must be in line with the government and the salary too, as they became private not because the government can not fund, but they can stand on their own earnings in which case they must be able to employ people as per government norms and give all perks applicable to the government employees. The human who work for them should have the equality as per fundamental human rights with respect to environment and dignity.

The work space should provide a personal space for each employee to work and the same is going to be his place of utmost comfort that he gives out his best. The presence of all in a hall make the working atmosphere cumbersome, noisy and there are more chances to under perform for the influence of others where his personal space makes him isolated and assigns him the responsibility to complete the task as required. The performance should never be linked to the salary hike, which will deprive the quality of life, but must be on the flexibility of work schedule that they wish to avail the same without competition and pull down others and which balances their personal and professional life, which in turn promote the potential which is expected by giving them the salary hike too.

Conclusion

All the social calamities existing in this scenario are global from the individual and should focus on both the extremities. The individual conduct, which leads to social calamities, will be checked by blocking the routes of ethical dilemma which makes one to be ethical as basic need to exist. The ethical dilemma being the personal benefit and external pressure, the barrier to the same is the online activity making the entire governance work online without oral communication by any way, banning the telephonic conversation for official matters.

The government providing this facility to the governing people is making them go illegal with the permission of government as we have the way to communicate any one with message online either through mobile or over internet. For the less educated, there is facility to voice message, which is recorded. When the system becomes transparent with the online activities there will not be external influences that every system functions well. Each department has information officer and the government has a information commission which attends to only petitions in an expected format and responds only to the petitions of their choice not all communications are attended.

The same has to be more vigilant and they should take up providing the information sought by the public communicated directly to them and the information officer is the additional responsibility to the person belonging to the same department and he don't act for the rule in spite of his binding responsibility. If the e governance is executed there is no need for the information commission at all, it is automated with all information pertaining to the department available online. The governance should network all concerns from individuals to heads of the governance that the information pertaining to everyone must be available in a finger touch. Not only the individual , about his regular performance, the official details that any one can be traceable easily and communicated which is much required in this world of every thing made possible in fraction of a minute. Without noise, without pollution, without social calamities we can progress respecting the individual dignity if every one has the reach by written communication through e governance which is the way to bring back ethics.
